

Chef Kim Sutherland joins Boler Mountain Team

November 16, 2017

London, ON: Boler Mountain is pleased to announce that Chef Kim Sutherland has been hired to lead the culinary experience in the new $6.1 million dollar chalet.

Well known and respected in the London culinary scene, Chef Sutherland is a local Londoner with extensive experience in large scale culinary establishments with an eye to local sustainable practices. She is the former Executive Chef at Budweiser Gardens.

Chef Sutherland has worked in various restaurants and facilities across North America. She helped plan and execute the culinary creations for major sporting events including The World Figure Skating Championships, The MasterCard Memorial Cup, and she recently ran a kitchen for thousands at The Canadian Scout Jamboree in Nova Scotia. Chef Sutherland is passionate about local, sustainable food and she loves to share that passion with others.

Chef Sutherland is finalizing menus for Boler Mountain that includes an array of healthy and family-friendly items to meet the needs of active outdoor enthusiasts. She will also be offering special occasion meals for corporate functions, weddings and private events. Seating is available for up to 200 in a variety of private space configurations <http://www.bolermountain.com/wedding-conf-meetings/>

“What excites me the most is to be able to share my passion for food, sustainability & healthy lifestyles with all guests of Boler Mountain, whether you are a 3 year old first time skier or a corporate event attendee,” says Chef Sutherland.

She has been in the food and beverage industry for 20 years after graduating from the Fanshawe College Culinary Apprenticeship program.

Boler is operated by a Management Team comprised of Greg Strauss and Marty Thody, who conducted an extensive search for the organization’s first full-time chef. “We are absolutely ecstatic to have Kim’s talent and enthusiasm join our amazing team as we open this great facility,” says Strauss and Thody.

Boler is ready to start its next chapter in the west-end of London by offering an enhanced guest experience. The new chalet is nearing completion. Designed by local architect firm Tillmann Ruth Robinson and California-based chalet specialists BSA, the 16,000 square foot, three-level facility will bring a new level of guest services including an impressive food and beverage service open to the public. It will be a community-use facility perfect for weddings, meetings, and corporate events. Kim Hyslop, Boler Mountain’s group sales coordinator has been busy showing the facility during construction and has secured several bookings for 2018 even before the doors officially open.

Boler Mountain is a not for profit organization providing outdoor adventure to thousands of enthusiasts of snow sports, mountain biking, TreeTop adventure climbing, beach volleyball, fitness hiking and more.

Boler Mountain is Southwestern Ontario's most dynamic destination for outdoor adventure. It attracts over 120,000 enthusiastic outdoor participants annually to the facility from all over southwestern Ontario. Boler Mountain has become a part of many area families lives and an important part of their healthful, active outdoor winter lifestyle. Led by a volunteer Board of Directors, the organization strives to provide year round experiences for guests of all ages and abilities to enjoy extraordinary fun and excitement.
